Dorine Genga: Yes.

indra klein: Would you ask speaker to speak up or speak closer into mic?

Dick Tinsley: speak louder please

Domisian Mabula: Yes

Amini Mataka: Thank you very much Agnes for a very insightful presentation.

Humnath Bhandari: Question to Agnes: What does it mean the "inclusive food value chain"?

Prakash Kafle: Nepal

Md. Humayun Kabir: Louder please!

Zachary Baquet (USAID/RFS): If you have you have questions for the speaker please add them to the chatbox and let us know who your question is directed to.

Naimatullah Soomro: speak loudly please Md indra klein: If no new data was collected, what data was used? time frame? pre-COVID-19?

indra klein: @ Zachary, is there any way that you can boost volume? It is VERY difficult to hear cirrent speaker

Manohara Khadka: To Agnes: Private sector is gender exclusive in terms of understanding value chain and inclusive food system,. are there examples from where we can learn from private sector actor being inclusive (both in their organizational system, policies and interventions)?

Sharoon Sabir: a bit louder plz

Zachary Baquet (USAID/RFS): @indra Thank you for your feedback. We are seeing what we can do.

indra klein: Social Contract: With whom? natl, regional, local govt? Thoughts on challenges regarding buy-in?

Lava Thapa: Good wvwning to you all. This is Lava from CIMMYT Nepal

Zachary Baquet (USAID/RFS): If you need to enlarge your screen, click on the four arrows at the upper right of the presentation window

Sana Khawaja: She need to speak louder

Adam Ahmed: For those who are having issues with the audio, make sure that you turn up the volume on your computer.

indra klein: @Adam, set at max volume

Sana Khawaja: its full Adam

Sharoon Sabir: alraedy done

Jerry Brown: That would be helpful if the speaker could speak louder. I have the volume on maximum and I am not hearing the speaker very well.

Happy Sikalengo: Good evening from Tanzania. This is Happy Sikalengo from Rieta AgroSciences Ltd

Josue Lopez: @Agnes, what recommendations are coming from the field to reduce the practice of giving young girls in marriage? Any data on the reduction of this practice?

Amini Mataka: Yes ,the volume has improved a lot many thanks

Ashok Sarkar: Do we need to pay special attention for the climate vulnerable for better inclusion?

indra klein: @Maitreyi, with regard to "Africa is the country", do you mean the continent?

Abdu Beshir: @Das is economic marginalization/exclusion linked to violence or civil unrest? Can exclusion be a tool for political gains?

Noubia Gribi: yes

Shola Ajibola: Yes, can hear you very well. Thanks

Shahana Begum: can u spak loud a llttle bit Louder

indra klein: Speaker needs to speak closer into her mic

Sharoon Sabir: better now thanks

Noubia Gribi: How is this affecting refugees, IDPs, in that context,

Zenebech Mesfin: Hi everyone, Zene Mesfin, Gender & Agriculture Specialist at EnCompass indra klein: Would you thoughts on how technology is used to help raise awareness and make changes with regard to inlcusion? To what degree has social media, PSA's, & other venues helped?

Shola Ajibola: Thank you, Matreyi

JEEWAN SHRESTHA: hi everyone.. its jeewan k.shrestha from nepal

Sharoon Sabir: it changes but takes long to change and in some contexts it may not change as cultural norms do not permit

Amini Mataka: Thank you very much Maitreyi Das, Very interesting presentation

indra klein: Any thoughts on intergenerational participation in bringing about change for inclusion? any tensions? any benefits with regard to empathy in understanding perspectives?

Shahana Begum: Can u pls state the reference of the Report. sorry I joined late elisabeth garner: how can we innovate standard USAID and development tools, like indicators and RCTs, to better capture these intersecting identities and matters of inclusion more broadly?

Manohara Khadka: Deeply entrenched norms and practices are also institutionalized from household to community, market and state level institutions and their processes of decision-making and planning. Dealing with exclusion/inclusion is a political process. How would be approach to bring changes in institutional level?

Md. Humayun Kabir: There are evidences that during the Covid-19 pandemic women's role in care giving function at home increased many fold and at the same time gender based valance also increased. Whether there is data how it is affecting inclusiveness in value chain and other relevant areas.

Madad Kahn: hello everyone Madad Khan ,here from Quetta Balochistan Pakistan

Madad Kahn: madadkhan@hotmail.com

Angela Kabiru: Greetings all, appreciate thoughts on inclusion of the private sector particularly enterprises in the informal private sector and how to ensure their inclusion in decision particularly related to COVID-19 pandemic response

Muhammad Umar Hanif: Alts very relevent session! someone talked about environment, how environment could be better when industr increasing day by day with automation....releasing more heat..which deteriorating the glaciers ultimately the environment getting hotter day by day...even isuues like smog also coming ..is there any way to control and save our environment ????

Shahana Begum: why cant the presentation seen

Abdu Beshir: Thanks Victoria!

Dr. Narendra Kumar Sharma 2: Thanks Victoria for sharing CDCS gender analysis

indra klein: With regard to trade, do women-owned businesses have equal voice in mrpice negotiation? Is there a need for a male to act on thier behalf, whether partially or fully?

Ashok Sarkar: Are the adolescent girsl & women are engaged with too much care works in Kenya?

Christopher Ajayi: Thanks!

Stephen Harrott: Good Morning everyone. FUAL - Ontario Canada.

Amini Mataka: Thanks Mugo very true access promotes inclusion

Maureen Gitagia: thank Mugo for great presentation

indra klein: Given the challenges that women face, are there movements where women are collaborating together to have a stronger voice?

Zachary Baquet (USAID/RFS): Thank you providing your questions! Keep them coming. Please indicate who your question is intended for Elizabeth Waithanji: what adjustments were made in the Kenyan markets to include people with different disabilities?

Md. Humayun Kabir: Is there any perception in Nepal that some work are women friendly some are not? If so whether it affect inclusion?

Emmanuel Ndayizigiye: Hi

indra klein: Is there data available that reflect the impact of inclusion where the market is concerned -- locally, regionally, nationally?

Abdu Beshir: @Manju, excellent presentation! Thanks!

Manohara Khadka: @Manju jee, great presentation!

Dyutiman Choudhary 2: @Manju that was a superb and powerful presentation. Thanks

Christopher Ajayi: are there measurable economic goals for social inclusion?

Jerry Brown: This question is for Mr. Morales: How is illegal immigration defined? What programs does USAID have to address illegal youth immigration?

Shahana Begum: why cant i see VDO

Manohara Khadka: Great to see the GESI common framework !

Prakash Kafle: @Manju-ji, great presentation, nice to know how our work helps in social inclusion and gender equality

Manohara Khadka: that IDPG GESI WG conceptualized in 2017!

Ashok Sarkar: What is employment percentage in Agriculture?

sujata singh: @manju jee: Thank you for powerful presentation!

Elizabeth Waithanji: I missed this presentation. sound all scrambled.

Ashok Sarkar: W

indra klein: @ Gerson, given the high % of poverty, with indigenous population representing a large %, would you provide insight on racial perceptions in Guatemala and any steps that govt has taken to address such?

Adam Ahmed: We are sorry to hear that Elizabeth, we will be sharing a recording of the webinar Hari Shrestha: Nice presentation Manjujee and all.

indra klein: vwey soft spoken

Dorine Genga: Yes

Sharoon Sabir: yes we can hear you

Domisian Mabula: Yes

Naimatullah Soomro: Much beter

sujata singh: social norm and gendered nature of child care giving role pointed towards women is biggest barrier for women to become agri extension worker. If any panelist can share ground examples on addressing these issues from inclusion perspective ?

Kakha NADIRADZE: Good

Christopher Ajayi: how responsive are the global community to deforestation in ensuring sustainable agricultural production?

Abdu Beshir: @Manju, how to best address the exclusive culture well entrenched in South Asian society? Segregation based on cast/ethnic group is well ingrained in the society, any thought?

Sharoon Sabir: Zachary Baquet can youplz share all these presentations

Abdu Beshir: @Morales, you mentioned chronic malnutrition, is malnutrition leads to exclusion or exclusion leads to malnutrition?

Sana Khawaja: sharoon i have

Sana Khawaja: will share with you

Sharoon Sabir: thanks Sana

Naimatullah Soomro: Madam plase share with all

Sana Khawaja: sure

Adam Ahmed: We will be sharing the presentation slide deck at the end of the presentation

Naimatullah Soomro: Thanks Md

Domisian Mabula: Mentioning of Women being trained on seed production, how is their relationship with their family-husband?

indra klein: Agrilinks usually provide link dyrubg Q&A anup kumar: nice presentation

Sana Khawaja: very nice and crisp presentations and well explained by speakers

Amini Mataka: Many thanks Emmanuel, for an inspiring presentation, Very true no agriculture no food no food no life very well said there many thanks

lubna Saeed: Nice presentation , thank you

Shamim Ara Begum: Thanks to all speakers for their nice presentation.

Madad Kahn: Madad Khan , From Quetta Balochistan Pakistan , madadkhan@hotmail.com

Krista Jacobs: @Gerson - Thanks for the presentation! Can you say more about the approaches the Rutas de Aprendizaje are using to address gender issues?

Sharoon Sabir: The contents of all the presentations were clearly structured ,

Christopher Ajayi: or could agriculture be really sustainable without forestry/agroforestry

Domisian Mabula: We speak about Inclusion, do we really incentivize all parties as from our African perspectives this needs more to men than women.

LALIT SAH: Thank you Dr. Manju Maa'm for very nice presentation

Madad Kahn: any project or program on Agribusiness supply chain , agribusiness improvement marketing?

Mary Crave: How has the involvement of youth been received in Rwanda? Are they treated as equals with adults? Dismissed as being inexperienced and naive? Encouraged? What platform do they have to be heard in program design and implementation?

Ditya Lamichhane: Hello everyone. This is Ditya Lamichhane from iDE Nepal

Virginia Mzuzu: with reference to Malawi, hit

Virginia Mzuzu: it has been observed that there is a chi indra klein: Throughout course of programs and their implementation, was there any push back? How were they addressed and women further motivated?

Afifa Ghumman: thank you for such informative and explained presentation #InclusionMatters!

Dr Kareem Waheed: I am glad to be here

Douglas Shadd: Is there a need for value added processing and packaging as a standalone unit? Or is it expected that farm production be self-contained?

Krista Jacobs: Thanks, Gerson!

Abdu Beshir: @ all the panelists: COVID-19 is relegating millions of people into poverty further widening social gaps and adding miseries to the already vulnerable communities. Without a clear way out from this pandemic, what is the best (quick) approach readily applicable to save lives and livelihoods of marginalized communities.

indra klein: Was there training/awareness programs provided to men in community as a way to gain empathy and support, as well as understanding in that intent is not be a threat?

Winnie Osulah: GIRL - Girls Improving Resilience with Livelihoods

LAL SINGH: excellent

Christopher Ajayi: are there problems with child labour in your country? if yes how are you addressing it...

Virginia Mzuzu: there is a high level of drop out of youth in Agriculture programs especially those that have no immediate income benefit. how is the experience in other countries and how do you encourage youth.

sujata singh: Thanks Manju jee, Betty and Gerson!

LAL SINGH: thanks

Emmanuel Ndayizigiye: To Mary Crave, the Ministry of agriculture is increasing the role of youth in agricultural activities because they were not counted before in Rwanda. RYAF (Rwanda Youth in Agriculture Forum) is the main platform through which their voice is heard

Gerson Morales: Virginia, one of the activities we have noticed that works is to engage youth through the use of Digital Tools; however linking their production to markets that will make it stay in the sector and this is something our activities working on, market access

Betty Mugo: Elizabeth, The markets infrastructure is friendly to persons living with disabilities and include ramps and rails

Elizabeth Waithanji: Thanks, Betty. Great presentation

Lysette Lacambra: Fully agree with Agnes on involving the grassroots to promote inclusion. Lysette here working with East-West Seed Knowledge Transfer. One approach we are doing in our project countries like in India is to train women farmer leaders (Rural Extension Workers) to train fellow women farmers. More about the story here: <https://kt.eastwestseed.com/news/training-and-outreach-helping-to-empower-female-farmers-around-the-world>

Mary Leuci: Manju, how have you dealt with the resistance when it appears to be rooted in fear of losing influence, income, power indra klein: Based on your experience with constituency, any prevailing thoughts shared with you that may shed added insight particularly with regard to funders of programs?

Christopher Ajayi: thank you

Winnie Osulah: Thank you Betty for representing Kenya well and more so the Kenya Livestock Market Systems Activity!
